

The Truth about Galahad and Punternet.com

Introduction

On 30 September 2009, Harriet Harman British MP, in a speech to the British Labour Party Conference called for the closure of the website Punternet.com.<sup>1</sup>

"It is truly degrading and puts women at risk," she said. "Punternet has pages and pages of women for sale in London. But Punternet is based in California so I've raised it with the US Ambassador to London and I've called on California's governor Arnie Schwarzenegger to close it down. Surely it can't be too difficult for the Terminator to terminate Punternet and that's what I am demanding that he does."

The response from Punternet.com was:

Dear Mrs. Harman,

I have a few points to make regarding your recent remarks regarding my website and your fantastic demand that the Governor of California close it down.

Firstly, PunterNet is not violating any laws. If it were, then surely the many websites catering to the US prostitution scene (where sex for pay is almost completely illegal) would already have been closed down.

In the USA, there is a concept called "freedom of speech" which is considered the most important personal right guaranteed by the Constitution. It exists specifically to prevent the sort of abuse of power that you are attempting. The Governor (indeed, even the President) has no authority with which to shut down a perfectly lawful enterprise such as PunterNet.

PunterNet was not the first, and is certainly not the only, website in the UK with the same subject matter. Rather than creating the demand for commercial sex, sites like PunterNet are a response to that demand, which has existed since the dawn of mankind and certainly long before the advent of the Internet!

One of the missions of PunterNet is education – to provide information and guidance in hopes that the commercial sex scene is limited to consenting adults and those who choose of their own free will to engage in it.

If sites like this one did not exist, and if prostitution were outlawed, then it would effectively be handed to organised crime on a platter – just as happened with liquor during Prohibition. If, on the other hand, sexwork is recognised as a legitimate, honourable profession, then there will be no market for the criminal elements, and the truly despicable aspects of the scene such as sex slavery and trafficking will die out. Surely that is a far more desirable goal than driving it back underground where it will then consist only of criminals and victims?

In closing, I would like to thank you for the huge influx of traffic to my website which your actions have caused. I am sure that the ladies who are a part of the PunterNet community thank you as well, as they will no doubt benefit financially from the many new clients who might otherwise never have found them.<sup>2</sup>

Second Press Release

A second press release was issued by Galahad on 2 October 2009:

I have had a large number of queries from various news agencies over the past day, too many to write each one a personal reply, so I am posting this instead.

Regarding claims that PunterNet "degrades" and "exploits" women:

Most definitely not! As it says on the home page, "This web site aims to promote better understanding between customers and ladies in hopes that everyone may benefit, with less stressful, more enjoyable and mutually respectful visits." Anyone actually reading the site can see that the atmosphere here is one of camaraderie, not degradation!

Participation on this site is 100% voluntary. If a particular lady or agency chooses not to have reviews published here, their wishes are respected - unlike on many restaurant review sites.

Regarding claims that sites like this promote trafficking and sex slavery:

Again, exactly the opposite is true! The sort of low-lives who engage in such despicable activities would not dare subject themselves to the scrutiny of being discussed in an open forum such as this one. The people who use this site (and the many others like it) are decent folk and would not hesitate to make that call to Crimestoppers if they suspected something was not right. So, sites like PunterNet are helping to REDUCE trafficking and slavery, which is what the Government claims to want to accomplish. Whatever one may think personally about sexworkers and their clients, we should all be working together in furtherance of that goal, by promoting a political and legal climate in which consenting adults can conduct their private business in a safe, clean, and respectful environment.

Why is Mrs. Harman picking on PunterNet when there are so many other, similar websites in the UK?

That is an excellent question! Considering the many high-profile escort directory sites, the thousands of websites belonging to escort agencies, massage parlours, and independent ladies, not to mention all the other discussion/review websites, how PunterNet came to be singled out is something of a mystery. Perhaps it was the fact that Mrs. Harman and her misguided beliefs were previously discussed here in a negative light. If that is the reason, she will have to close the entire Internet after this latest fiasco!

How much extra traffic did you get on 30 September, the day the story first broke?

Just over 2.7 million hits, more than double the daily average. Here's the graph from my server statistics for September:

The Media Response

Many articles have been written in response to the call for the website to be closed.

Jerome Taylor of The Independent wrote:

Prostitutes who use a website to advertise their services to punters have thanked Harriet Harman for giving them a free publicity boost when she called for the site's closure earlier this week.

During her speech to the Labour Party Conference on Wednesday the equalities minister challenged California's governor Arnold Schwarzenegger to shut down Punter Net, a US-based website that allows British prostitutes to advertise themselves and the men who use them to rate their experiences.

Her calls received thunderous applause from inside the conference hall but some organisations that represent sex workers, such as the English Collective of Prostitutes, have argued that any attempt to ban such sites would simply push the sex industry further underground and make the buying and selling of sex more dangerous.

Now a number of independent escorts who use Punter Net – which is one of just a many online forums for prostitutes and punters – say they have been inundated with new requests from clients who were previously unaware of the site's existence until Ms Harman publicly named them.

Laura Lee, an escort who works out of her flat in Glasgow, was just one of a number of sex workers who said the call to ban Punter Net had actually led to an increase in business. Speaking to the Independent today she said: "Harriet Harman has managed to do in one day what I've been trying to do for six months, which is increase the traffic to my personal website. Normally I would expect about two to three hundred hits a day but now it's more like 820. The vast majority of gentlemen contacting me had never heard of Punter Net until this week."

Another escort, who goes by the name of Dollymopp and entertains clients at a luxury flat in the Borough area of London, wrote on one of the Punter Net forums: "Just back from a [shopping] trip?logged in to mail, was wondering why I had so many hits, requests to meet up, and definitely more than my usual. Fabulous. Thanks HH!"

The creator of the website, who uses the name Galahad and is thought to be a British expat living abroad, also said Punter Net had benefited from the deputy leader's comments.

In a statement posted on the website he wrote a personal letter to Ms Harman which ended: "I would like to thank you for the huge influx of traffic to my website which your actions have caused. I am sure that the ladies who are a part of the Punter Net community thank you as well, as they will no doubt benefit financially from the many new clients who might otherwise never have found them."

He also said his forum encouraged punters to report underage or trafficked women to the authorities. "One of the missions of PunterNet is education - to provide information and guidance in hopes that the commercial sex scene is limited to consenting adults and those who choose of their own free will to engage in it," he said.

The Minister for Women and Equality, however, firmly disagrees, calling Punter Net a “sinister” and “truly degrading” website which represented the “ultimate commodification of women”. Because the website is hosted on an American server based in California, she has turned to former Hollywood actor turned state governor Schwarzenegger to close it down – although bloggers have questioned whether he would be able to or even whether the site is breaking US or British law.

A number of sex workers writing on the site have also defended online forums, which they say have allowed working girls to advertise without the need for pimps and allow sex workers to warn each other about abusive clients operating in their area.

Inna Suomi, a Finnish escort who works out of her home on the outskirts of West London, said: “[Punter Net] actually enables women to work without pimps because we can make ourselves available without having to use an agency or club. We control where and when we work and we control who we agree to see. Without PN and sites like it we would have to use systems and environments that lend themselves to abuse and exploitation.”

Laura Lee added: “I think what Ms Harman has found particularly objectionable is the way our clients are able to review us. But what she has failed to understand is that these reviews are incredibly useful to the girls. A good review on a website like Punter Net results in a marked number of people requesting our services. It is to working girls what a Michelin Star is to a restaurant.”

Other working girls, however, are critical of Punter Net and chose not to post on the website. One professional escort who contacted The Independent but asked not to be named said: “Quite a few of us simply won’t use Punter Net, there’s a lot that goes on behind closed doors on the website that we don’t agree with. I would also question how seriously they really take the whole “report a trafficked girl” ethos.”

Last night Ms Harman said she remained determined to try and shut the website down. “I am against exploitative websites such as Punternet,” she said. “They should be ashamed of themselves for boasting about how they degrade women and I am determined to shut them down”.

Trafficking – The Truth

Punternet is aiding and abetting the trafficking of young girls and forcing them into prostitution against their will. The BBC have written about the real situation:

BBC.co.uk

Comment on Louise Woodward criminal case:

I am pleased that the case is finally finished and that Louise can now return home. I have no opinion regarding her probable guilt or innocence; after all, I was not present at the trial and did not have access to the evidence and witnesses. In any case, I do not believe that society would be served by keeping Louise in prison and effectively making her into a true criminal. Her life has already been irrevocably destroyed, as she will be followed and hounded by the press for many years to come; everything she does from getting a new job to eventually having a child of her own will be made public. That, I believe, is every bit as bad as a prison sentence, and possibly worse, as it has no time limit.

Brynn Lamont is an ex-prostitute with an alleged history of mental problems. She went on to threaten and abuse another prostitute – Princess Kama, London UK.

Kama writes:

Who was behind the Hate Campaign that was threatening you? After many weeks Brynn Lamont an escort with arrests for pandering/pimping and with a known mental health problem has been exposed as the person seeking to hurt me while also trying to exploit my name for their own profit. She uses my name to attract people to her web site so she can try and direct them towards women she controls. She has previously placed hate stories on her various websites and tried to link me to Al-Qaeda. This woman has been banned from various ISP and Message Boards because of her Hate Speech. She constantly makes unsubstantiated and incredible allegations in the hope of attracting people to her advertising sites, she also uses the message boards to solicit new young escorts so she might pimp them in London. Her MySpace page reads:

Welcome to Pure Romance by Michelle

Hello and WELCOME to my MySpace! I am Michelle, I am from England and live in the middle of nowhere, a rural county near Dayton, Ohio. I am 28, and have the greatest job in the world! I get paid to party.

Back in 2001, I met my now husband online. We kind of stumbled into our relationship. Neither of us was looking for love. We started chatting and decided to get together for a little vacation. So, each of us flew into San Francisco airport, me from England and him from Ohio. We drove up to Reno for some fun. Once we each got home, we realized there was more to this than friendship so we started a long distance relationship!

4 years of traveling across the Atlantic 3 or 4 times a year, and it just got too hard to say goodbye at the end of our trips. So, in 2005, Oliver asked me to marry him. Come July, I moved over here to Ohio, and in September, we got married. I'm not going to pretend it was easy going, as it wasn't. I had left all my friends and family behind in England and we had to wait for my immigration to be approved. This meant I wasn't allowed to work, I couldn't drive and I was completely dependent on my new Husband.

Once I had my papers and permissions, I learned to drive and found a job as a nanny to an adorable little boy and his older sister. I loved this, and when the arrangement came to an end, I was heartbroken. I decided I couldn't do that again, and with my husbands schedule, a 9-5 job was incompatible with our lifestyle.

So, when I found out about Direct Sales, it seemed perfect. The first company I signed up with just didn't work out. When I was invited to a Pure Romance party, I was kind of skeptical, but boy was I proven wrong! I found the party to be very classy and fun.

January 2008 found me starting my brand new business as a Pure Romance consultant and it has turned out to be the best decision of my life! I am a completely different person now. I have confidence, independence and, most of all, financial stability. My business is growing and I have a large social group of friends!

If you can relate to any of this, or would like the opportunity to turn your life around, please call me, and we can discuss some options for you. I would love to help you have the life you wish for and deserve!

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF POOR WHITE TRASH

I see the wretched cunt from Ilford, Sunni Tara the former moderator on Punternet had the nerve to post on the Nadia Imani replacement hate board a message to me asking why I never contacted her about any problem I may have with her. Apparently she had only noticed my sites were back up.

Sunni, who the fuck do you, think you are? Me come to you? About what? Just because the fickle deviants that posted on the Punternet message board think you are some kind of High Priestess. Listen, you own a brothel in not a nice part of town. Your girls fuck for as little as £30. Out of that they see less than half of it. In other words just to make what even a £150 an hour escort make they have to fuck at least ten sweaty creeps. They often have to fuck more than that. Face it, the clientele is a little on the shabby and destitute side. Listen girl, the closest thing, these degenerates are nothing other than whore hags. They have a thing about whores, stupid as it sounds they are fascinated about every thing to do with whores. Where whores live, how whores live, their boy friends, husband's, children, food they eat, even what they shit. They can't play grab ass with the girls at work and wont have the nerve to approach other girls, but they feel safe on whore message boards where the whores grateful for any attention they can get, will gravitate to them.

You were happy enough to be a moderator on two message boards that posted shit about people, laughed at a white escort for having mixed race children, tormenting her and others, allowing racist remarks and harassing my family. Listen my view has never changed about you, you are just a cheap two bit East London bleached blond with roots showing, old slapper who probably doesn't even know who fathered her 4 bastards.

Your post the other day about being gagged and rapped. Isn't it a shame, maybe someone should get hold of you gag you, rape you until you die with your eyes wide open.

PUNTERNET MESSAGE BOARD IS GONE!

The message board owned by the very corrupt Oliver Beavan aka Galahad is no more. He shut it down for 48 hours temporarily and then announced it would be no more. Punternet message board was the first of it's kind in the UK, it's what others tried to recreate, but it always remained the largest with the most resource regarding the prostitution business in the UK. The rest of the site including the reviews of escorts/parlours etc., in the UK has remained.

To hear the peeps that visit it talk, you think it's only recently that the cesspool of Paedophiles and degenerates only got nasty. It has always been a tasteless tacky message board, where people's could indulge themselves, where women were talked of and about no different from the way you talk about objects. It also facilitated the evil people who trafficked women from all over the world which was only encouraged by the inadequate men whose used it as a playground to to show off and brag about ladies they supposedly brought to orgasm (if only they knew they were sounds most prostitutes made to either stop themselves from either laughing or crying). It was a place where deviants hung out trying to find new escorts with litte experience. A new girl posting would be bombarded with "kindly" men offering help in building their websites, photographic help, driving them, promises of good reviews and introduction to a group of men who would further their "careers". Some times the girls would be bullied if they didn't comply. Many either didn't want a "bad" reputation or were too green about the business to do anything and just went along.

Here is an example: Earlier this year a girl new to the business began posting. Actually it was me posting as her since she was in the process of moving and was waiting for her broadband connection. I had given her a run down of the business, how it worked and what and what not to do. Even introduced her to a photographer, one of the posters a former moderator of the board, Rod Boreland who used the screen name Blackcoot. Hey Rod nice try! You tried to discredit me on a message board you know I could defend myself on because I've been banned in a place where I have enemies. All because you knew you'd been sending unblurred photos to your group of fellow deviants. You had a habit of ingratiating yourself with new gals and pushed your luck with the younger inexperienced ones. Just to show folks the "cloak" you had on Punternet message board here are some.

Yet you were able to reply to my mails. Are you thick or something?

(some guys are just so dumb)

This is just some of their shenenigans. More later.

THE HACKING OF MY SITES (taken from another site I originally posted on)

People, you may have noticed a lot of fuss about me of late. I am scheduled to do a radio interview on Kerrang this evening and there are people within the community who don't want me to talk. A flurry of blogs and various sites went up in the panic and obviously because my *ahem* reputation precedes me and because it is so easy to believe what you read on line some people assumed it was the thruth. I have never been abused sexually in my life nor has any of my sibilings. A lot of the information were half truths from one person who knew a little wincey bit about me but not enough to publish anything concrete. For example there were no up to date facts such as my name or where I live. My sites will be up by tomorrow as I do have back up. The local police were already involved on the harrament issues and names and other information of some members of the message boards were handed in already, but now they have involved the coputer crimes department because of the hacking. This includes Galahad who owns the punternet site. Galahad and others have for a long time supported the sick vile sex slave trafficking. One only has to look at the reviews on his site. In fact recently a few of the same brothels reviewed have been raided where in some cases under age girls as well as slaves were being pimped. Rod Borland aka Blackcoot has created a scene, all this after me privately texting and emailing him to let him know that he has been included as a suspect as he was the only one to have unblurred pics of me. More to come about him and all the huffing and puffing on line about me being such a bad person will help. It's a glorious warm Autumn day in London and I'll have to step away from the PC for a good while. I will however not be traveling this afternoon to do the interview on Kerrang radio (which can be heard on line) but will have to do a short phone one with a new date being set soon for my apppearance at the studio. Oh and I'll be on the Tim Shaw Asylum Show. A lot of people are very scared and even those who I didn't think were so deep into things are now showing their true colours and leaving way to much evidence now I no longer work as an escort and have nothing to fear. Here is a cathed page of something that was featured on one of my sites. <http://66.218.69.11/search/cache?p=devadasi+adult+avenue&prssweb=Search&ei=UTF-8&fl=o&vst=o&vs=www.adult-avenue.co.uk&u=www.adult-avenue.co.uk/devadasi.htm&w=devadasi+adult+avenue&d=HSuNoGFULkSA&icp=1&intl=us> More to come! Please excuse my spelling errors, I'm in a rush and no time to check.

GALAHAD (Oliver Beavan) AND THE STORY OF PUNTERNET... Why he will be hearing from the IRS in Britain and hopefully law enforcement in the United States.

Oliver Beaven is being included in all this because he knowingly allowed those responsible to post their vile lies undisturbed on his site.

Galahad the owner of the UK's Leading escort review site is nothing but a low life sleaze bag who often frequents the home of kiddie fiddlers.... Thailand. He also posts by the same name on the Big doggie, the US equivalent to Punternet, although he has denied being the same man. An arrogant man to say the least, now lives in Kettering, Ohio and from what I can gather, an American citizen. I say this because he has a gun license which you can not have if not an American citizen and belongs to several clubs including this one <http://twg-ohio.org/> which he is also the webmaster.

To cheap to find a more convenient way for the ladies to pay the monthly advertising, he has escorts and agencies paying the £8 monthly fee into a Bank account belonging to Michelle Milson or M. Milson as we are instructed to do. Michelle is a former prostitute he took up with here in the UK and she has recently joined him in Ohio and works as a paid skivvy (a live in nanny). I wonder if she told the visa department at the American Embassy that she was a prostitute. They have a thing about moral turpitude and prostitution is one.

Michelle and Galahad recently had a falling out with Jean a pimp who owns a brothel in Luton (a place you'd rather forget) because of money she owed Michelle. Galahad withdrew her reviews until she and Nadia Imani posted the emails on a message board. The reviews were reinstated and the emails were taken down. Nadia couldn't help sending them to me: Here are the emails.

I caused Punternet mods more work and aggravation than anyone in recent history, I continue to register additional accounts on the message board & most seriously, I mis-used the Announcements Board to perpetuate my abuse of other people after having been banned

SOME HOME TRUTHS

Why not? Recently I was attacked by a group who at present are unknown to me although I have my suspicions. The incident has been reported to the police in my county and it's been followed up on. I in the mean time have taken it on myself to be armed which in the United Kingdom is illegal. Our police force although adept at murdering innocent people believing they are terrorists (even though said person was under surveillance for a while by members of the most elite group of law enforcement agents in the UK) .

I bring all this up because so desperate are they to discredit me that they made up the most vicious lies about my medical history, about awful things like incest in my family and a host of ugly lies. They have now taken to stalking a family member and even following the kids to school. More recently they placed a rather fuzzy photo on the blog dedicated to me....It was of my sister leaving her home.

I don't know what the police will come up with but I strongly suspect its a combination of Kama of Kingston handlers, Nadia Imani and a few others. Imani may have used her own family incest to conduct the lies about me. Hers are quite well documented on some of the British message board as she tends to go off the rail when she's drunk. She is also quite adept or her friends are at hacking other sites. She's done it before to another lady, various message board especiall the captain 69 board where I have emails she sent me giving me access to peoples accounts.

Kama is a young Bangladeshi girl who has a very poor command of English yet she is able to post articulate posts way above the comprehension of a lot of escorts and lurkers than visit the message boards. She is being pimped in the name of a cult outlawed in its native India. Girls as young as 6 years old are groomed to be prostitutes and have unprotected sex. More recently she claimed that one of the people posting for her was a collage of one of her tutors from college whose mother was a prostitute. Although unable to speak english, and new to the country, she has been able to hire a receptionist, rent a quality flat, which has CCTV cameras and a driver.

Speaking of colleges, funny, but we haven't heard a peep in a while about her being at college. Kama evidently doesn't go to school bought was probably brought into the country on a students visa. My site will go into more details about what is now known as team Kama.

In the mean time here is some background knowledge on the Devadasi.
